PRIVACY NOTICE

Business details: Suzi Morris Psychotherapy; suzi@suzimorrispsychotherapy.co.uk; 07769 334841

Suzi is committed to protecting and respecting your privacy.

As a Human Givens practitioner and Member of the Human Givens Institute, Suzi is a registered Data Controller and abides by the regulations of the Information Commissioner and her professional body.

Please read the following carefully to understand our views and practices regarding your personal data and how we will treat it.

Type of personal information collected:

- Contact details: name, email address, phone number
- Next of kin and emergency contact details
- GP contact details
- Case notes and records – anonymised
- Psychometric measures that are taken during a therapy session - anonymised
- Correspondence with you and any external agencies involved
- Financial details through transfer of funds for payment

How personal information is collected and why I have it:

Most of the information collected is provided by you in order to carry out the contract of service between us and to process payments for the service provided.

Examples of the use made of this information are:

- To enter into and carry out a contract of service between us
- For the planning and preparation of future sessions
- For reflection on previous sessions
- To process payments relating to the service of contract
- For governance and professional standards requirements
- For professional insurance purposes

I may also receive personal information indirectly in the following circumstances:

- Where you have given me permission to speak to other support agency/agencies involved in your care
- In the event of needing to ensure your own or others' safety where this involves speaking to other professionals involved in your care who make contact about such safety concerns should they have identified that you or others are at risk

Sharing of your personal information:

I do not share this information with any other organisation or individual, other than those detailed in the 'Client Agreement' which forms the basis for the contract between us. The only exception to this relates to payments made for contracted services where identifiers attached by you / your bank to this payment information can be seen by the bank or other financial institution processing that payment.

Suzi Morris Psychotherapy

Under the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR), the lawful bases I rely on for processing this information are:

- Entering into and performing a contract
- Legal duty
- Legitimate interest

How I store your personal information:

Your personal information, including case records, is securely stored. Physical data is stored in a secure cabinet at my practice premises. Digital data is stored on password-protected hardware or in the cloud.

In accordance with professional and insurance requirements I will retain a record of your personal information (including case records) for a period of 7 years from the point at which the contract between us ends. At the end of that period, any information I have processed will be securely destroyed. At any stage during that period of time, or during the contract, you can request access to the information that I hold in relation to you.

How to complain about data processing:

If you have any concerns about the use of your personal information, please contact me in the first instance at suzi@suzimorrispsychotherapy.co.uk

If I am unable to resolve your concern, you can contact complaints@humangivens.com

You can also complain to the ICO if you are unhappy with how your data has been used. The ICO's address is:
